

vhf and Evolve Dentistry announce partnership bringing premium milling to their expansive digital workflow portfolio

The perfect blend of digital workflow know how and dental milling technology.

Ammerbuch/Hauppauge, September 23, 2022: vhf is pleased to announce Evolve Dentistry as a new reseller of their premium milling machines in the U.S. and in Canada. This new reseller has now begun offering the full vhf portfolio, including all vhf mills, tools, and accessories. vhf mills perfectly integrate into Evolve Dentistry's full digital workflow, allowing them to provide a full offering of premium digital dentistry solutions to their expansive network of customers.

The CEO of vhf Inc., Mohamed Soliman, says about this new relationship: "We are extremely excited to begin our partnership with Evolve Dentistry. Their commitment to customer service and advancing digital dentistry aligns with vhf's passion for perfection entirely. We look forward to teaming with Evolve to mutually benefit the dental community." Andy Jakson, owner and CEO of Evolve Dentistry continues: "The vhf mills are extremely versatile, simple to operate, and are priced very competitively: making them the most well-rounded milling solution we have operated. After rigorous testing and validation, Evolve Dentistry is excited to welcome the vhf lineup of dental mills to our curated portfolio."

Evolve Dentistry is an elite digital lab, Exocad training center, and digital dentistry distributor in the U.S. and Canada. The company was founded in 2013 as a branch of Evolutional Dental Sciences with the mission to convince the next generation of dentists that digital workflows improve the quality of care while increasing accuracy and profitability. Since then, Evolve Dentistry has been dedicated to helping clients transition from outsourcing to in-house operations, like a personal technician, and successfully evolve dental practices.
